Deputy Minister Agriculture Stresses Value British Market At Banquet to Junior Club

One hundred and ten attended the banquet given in the basement of St. Paul's United Church by the Junior Club members and sponsored by the Grande Prairie Board of Trade and the Seed Growers Association.

A. B. Hodgman, on the violin, and Mrs. J. Smart at a piano played a delightful program during the meal. The occasion was graced by the presence of H. A. Craig, deputy minister of agriculture, who was the principal speaker of the evening.

The wonderful banquet was prepared and served by the ladies of the church. D. W. Patterson, president of the Board of Trade, who was in the chair, said that it was gratifying to see so much interest taken in agriculture. He observed that the members of the Board of Trade was one of the sponsors of the banquet and that it was a splendid example of the support of the prosperity of the farmer.

The chairman told a humorous story of visiting a factory in England where they make forks and the manager was surprised that they were made in Canada. "The fork was well made and very strong," said Mr. Patterson. "The handle was as thick as a man's wrist." They weren't at all suitable in Canada.

The chairman then gave figures to show the opportunities for growing crops in the British market afforded by the quota. It was up to the farmers he said to make the most of the quota required on that market. If they were not done, the great opportunity would be lost.

Mr. Patterson then called upon Mayor Towler to read a handwritten letter. His Worship said that he was glad to welcome the agriculturists, business men, ladies and junior members of the Big Club.

"Mr. Thompson in his important work in the district merits the support of all of us," said the Mayor. He then went on to say that with high freight rates and low prices for the products of the land the more imperative that only the best possible should be produced in order to offset these losses.

His Worship in closing expressed the hope that a year of such success would be just as large a gathering. Following some community singing.

Light Docket Before Sitting of Supreme Court

Two civil actions and one criminal case came before the sitting of the Supreme Court here on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. Justice Tuckwell presided. A decree nisi was granted in a divorce action. Another case was a claim for a judicial separation. This was set over for hearing in June next.

The one criminal case on the docket was for the theft of a horse and the defacing of a brand against George White, the charge being laid by Fred McFadden, owner of the St. George's ranch.

His Lordship found the accused not guilty of the charge, but held there was sufficient evidence to send the property delivered to Mr. McFadden.

Oliver Johnson Pleased Over His Son's Election

"I suppose you are pleased over your son's election to the British Columbia legislature."

These words were addressed to Oliver Johnson by The Tribune reporter, to which the editor replied: "Well, I am naturally pleased that he won, and especially that he headed the polls."

"Byron," said Mr. Johnson, "was always a good boy. He was always in athletics and worked as hard as he played."

Asked about his son's athletic activities, Mr. Johnson informed the reporter that he had been recently returned to the Canadian championship. He was a member of the firm of Evans, Coleman & Johnson, Bros., wholesale dealers in building supplies.

Byron Johnson said his father's visit in 1931. He was born in Victoria.

THE SPLENDID SPONSORSHIP OF HERMAN TRELLE

When Herman Trelle, the Wheat and Out King, came to each June seed exhibitor mail packages of oats and wheat taken from the fields with which he won world championships, he put himself not only as a good sport, but demonstrated that he has at heart the development of the Peace River.

It is said that Alexander the Great never became a conqueror of the world for himself in the same situation, so far as conquering the world is concerned, he was not a conqueror, but he was willing to help the younger generation, on whom the future of this country depends.

Mr. Trelle stated that he will do all in his power—acquire the experience to those young seed growers who desire it. By this action Herman Trelle has made himself a citizen in the highest sense of the word. He has not only helped the world, as far as this inland empire is concerned, he is helping to determine the very destiny of the country.

CANADIAN BEEF IN DEMAND ON OLD COUNTRY MARKET

Several encouraging signs have appeared on the industrial side of the Dominion.

At the present time Canadian meat packers are exporting 2,000 quarters of chilled beef per week to the British market. Assuming that this means that the four quarters are used, this means that the beef is being sold in Canada at a price of 500 per quarter.

Although from meat has been shipped from Canada overseas it is understood that this is the first time in the history of the Dominion that beef has been shipped in this manner.

On top of this, some 50,000 cattle have been shipped to the old country market so far this year. At this rate of export, it looks as though there should be a considerable surplus of finished cattle in the near future.

THE FURY OF THE MOB

The story of the lynching of the two kidnapers and mobsters at San Jose, California, by an infuriated mob of some 6,000 men, who had been told that the mob was coming to San Jose, has been spread by such demagogues as to cause the populace take the law into their own hands.

Following several negro lynchings in the United States, an article appeared in one of the leading magazines in which the author contended that the reason why the mob was so violent was due to the fact that the people had lost faith in the courts of the land.

The thousands of the authorities in rounding up kidnapers and racketeers and meting out justice no doubt had considerable effect on the people who broke into the jail and took the two kidnapers and mobsters and hanged them to trees.

While this mob deed was a fearful affair, the kidnapers and mobsters of a promising young man was also awful.

United States has been cured this last number of years by a type of people who imagine that they do anything, no matter how vile, and get away with it.

One of the things which has lent itself to law and order in Canada is that the people have faith in the courts—fact that justice will be meted out, so far as the courts are concerned.

Speaking generally, Canadians have faith in their various police forces. As far as western Canada is concerned, we are fortunate in having the R. C. M. P., a force of men made up of a high caliber, men who have a high sense of duty. This can also be said, though perhaps, fitted to cope with the various problems with which they are bound to be confronted in the future.

So long as we have this high type of judge who now grace the bench, so long as we have men in the enforcement of law, Canada will continue to be law-abiding and let the law take its course.

It means something, let us all, to live under the British flag, there justice before the law is regarded as a sacred thing, to be at all times carefully guarded.

STRIKES OPTIMISTIC NOTE

A note of optimism is struck in the November letter by the R. C. M. P. with regard to world conditions.

After pointing out that the upturn in business has become general throughout the world, the letter then goes on to show with the support of data figures how that business is improving in all the leading commercial nations of the world.

The recovery in Britain is marked, as indicated by the fact that at the end of August the number of unemployed had decreased to 2,600,000 as compared with the number at the end of August, 1931.

Quoting from the letter:

"As a further example of the general trend, we might take the condition in Canada as a whole, but the story told in the Maritime Provinces is, in a sense, typical of the improvement in other parts of the Dominion. The figures are published to show the business recovery in the provinces by the Atlantic.

The letter points out that the number of men at the steel plant at Sydney is more than double the number employed last year. The number of lumber prices has increased and lumber sales are better than for many years. In fact, the steel industry in the Maritime Provinces is in expansion, with the result that the atmosphere of depression is less prevalent last year has given place to confidence and optimism.

The agricultural industry, the letter goes on to say, has stood the trying times well, for the reason that "the farmers, generally speaking, were out of debt and did not have hanging over their heads mortgages and other harassing obligations."

It is a pity that the West, to a degree at least, did not follow the example of their more happy farm brethren in the provinces before the war.

It is to be hoped that the revival of trade in the East is a sign that the depression is lifting and that the old Dominion will soon be enjoying at least partial prosperity.

STILL A MAN'S WORLD IN SOME RESPECTS

On Tuesday evening it was my privilege to attend the annual bazaar of St. Paul's Church, a banquet sponsored by the Board of Trade of the Grande Prairie. The bazaar was a success in every respect.

There were no less than one hundred and twenty women who were catered to by the women of the community. The women of the community were very successful in their efforts.

When the time came to go home, the men grabbed their hats, rubbers, overcoats and whatever else they needed to take to the open, while the women remained and waited for the men to return.

Gravelled Roads Cannot Be Built On Twenty-Year-Old Wheat

Hustlen, Alta., November 27, 1933.

I very much appreciate the fair way in which H. A. George, president of the Associated Roads of Trade, presents his side of the argument for the gravelled highway.

I can only point out that the grounds on which his whole argument is based are wrong.

Mr. George assumes that the amount collected in the Peace River from Gas Tax and Motor Vehicles Act is more than enough to maintain the main highway and those secondary and district highways that qualify for a grant from maintenance.

In no year has this been so. We have been drawing out for maintenance every year a greater amount than we have paid in taxes.

Mr. George says that we have been drawing out for maintenance of $700,000. This is a matter of fact the total cost of the work from Alberta to the R. C. boundary is $1,400,000 approximately. This includes the two branches, High Prairie-Burns Lake and Grinnath-Battle River.

Of this amount a certain part has been expended as unemployment relief, $250,000 and I presume that the Dominion government provided one-third of this a little over $85,000.

There is no chance that the Alberta government will allow this tremendous indebtedness to be endangered by neglect and they are each year improving the worst sections, but gravelled roads cannot be built on twenty-year-old wheat.

The federal government refused to continue their contribution to unemployment relief work after the program of 1931 was finished, and there is no indication that they have any intention of resuming it. It would consider for a minute giving assistance to any particular province for work and improvement.

Not a mile of new graveling was provided for in this year's estimates of the Public Works Department in the whole province, not because it was not needed, but because for this year it could not be financed.

Herman Trelle, at the outset of his career, said that the thing that was uppermost in his mind was the future of the boys who were aspiring for a better future.

Mr. Craig drew attention to the fact that Alberta is next to Ontario in the production and exports over 1,000,000 bush annually.

Mr. Craig then referred to the efforts of certain countries to cut down the number of bush, United States had slaughtered 5,000,000 bush and Ireland 100,000.

VANDERBILT AUTO AFTER CRASH KILLED SON

The wreckage of the imported automobile in which William K. Vanderbilt Jr. (inset), was instantly killed is shown near the scene of the tragedy at Ridgecliff, South Carolina. Mr. Vanderbilt, scion of one of America's most well known families, was driving to New York when his son, who was driving a Buick, suffered a broken leg.

CIVIL WAR SCENES IN TURBULENT CUBA

Scenes in revolution-torn Havana during the latest outbreak, when rebels took possession of strategic points in the city, notably Alcazar Fort, and were dislodged only after bombardment by warships in Havana harbor, the gesture costing 150 lives, as well as hundreds of injuries. At the top, a federal armored tank is shown growing through the streets in search of snipers. Below, a machine gun crew on the roof of the Presidential Palace watches the skies for a rebel plane, reported threatening to bomb the palace. PREMIER MACDONALD CALLED A "TRAITOR"

An article appearing in a prominent English journal about the signature of Lady Houston created a nation-wide sensation by referring to Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald as a "traitor." The article, in connection with Armistice Day, accused Premier MacDonald of granting a munition workers' strike when British soldiers lacked ammunition during the war. "How can you be sure that your dear one's life was not sacrificed through the treachery of this traitor," the article said. Leading wholesale news agents throughout Britain refused to distribute the journal and Lady Houston finally agreed to delete the reference to the Prime Minister. Above, left and right, are Premier MacDonald and Lady Houston.

Fashion Approves New Streamline Designs

Model automobile which under wind tunnel tests proved to have much less air and wind resistance than models of cars currently produced. Notice elimination of fenders, the shifting of wheels in the body.

(Below) One of the new stream-lined cars which engineers say will soon make all the square-toppers obsolete. Notice particularly the comparative shortness of the nose, when measured with the total length of the tonneau. Long noses will soon cease to be a sign of speed or power. And Fashion approves the smartness, as who wouldn't? (R.K.O.)

People who know, including alike the scientists, the designers, and the world of smart fashion, are all predicting the near approach of streamlining in automobiles.

Streamlining has been used in airplanes for several years; the present top speeds of the trans-continental transports—and also the low fares—have only been made possible by 100 per cent streamlining which reduced wind resistance, hence cut power consumption, increased speed and riding comfort. The railroads are now seizing on this new science, and several lines promise stream-lined trains to travel 100 miles an hour.

Automobiles have joined the procession. Now cars will soon be seen with blunt noses, sloping tannouses, wheels buried in the body. Long noses will soon be only a sign of the old-fashioned wind-fighters, which labored to push the air as a mole does the earth.

Atia Bey Amin (above), former first secretary to the Iraq Legation in London, and his wife, Princess Sara, sister of the late King Faisal of Iraq, must part by royal command and it is understood that an envoy from Iraq will take the princess back to Baghdad. The lovers ran away on September 6 and were married in Constantinople. The marriage roused the ire of the Princess's family, as it is against Islamic law for an ordinary man to marry a Princess.

MAP DEPICTS ALL CANADA

A moving panorama map of the Dominion of Canada, the largest of its kind in existence, is being painted by Gordon Hammon, well-known Montreal scenic artist, who created the gigantic map used in Canada's exhibit at the Century of Progress Fair at Chicago. The huge canvas is 300 feet long and ten feet high and will move on a belt behind a stage equipped with an opening ten feet high by twenty feet wide. It will be exhibited throughout Canada and England.

Starting from the Atlantic Ocean, the scene takes in the whole of Canada to Victoria and the Pacific, employing various colors for cities, towns, lakes and rivers. Government parks stand out distinctly, as do the mining areas, and the relative position of one place to another can be easily picked out. Even Canada's sports facilities have been included in this important undertaking.

NEW GAS DISCOVERED

Fuel gas with a greater specific gravity than ordinary gas and condensible to such an extent that it can profitably be transported in steel bottles, has been produced at the famous Leuna Works at Halle, Germany. The gas, called propan, is a by-product in the distillation of benzene from coal. According to tests, one bottle is sufficient to supply an ordinary household for from one to three months.

PICKLES PAY TUITION FEES

The enterprising student this year put up 341 cans of food-cucumbers, 194 of them cucumber pickles, which she sold to pay her way through the school year.

GENEVA, Nov. 21.—Diplomats assembled for the Disarmament Conference, the deliberations of which apparently are to be placed in recess until January, discussed the possibility Tuesday of a new world disarmament pact. BRITAIN CONTINUES AERONAUTICAL RESEARCH

The largest wind tunnel ever built in the British Isles is being constructed at the Royal Air Force establishment at Farnborough. It will be long enough to allow a full-sized aircraft to be placed in it for experimental purposes and many of the uncertainties and possibilities of error, which can arise on small scale models, will be eliminated. The tunnel is constructed in steel and reinforced concrete, and is 200 feet long, bent round itself to make a closed circuit. The air is forced round this tube by a six-bladed fan which will be driven by motors of 2,000 h.p., and winds as high as 120 miles per hour can be reproduced. The picture shows the tunnel in course of construction, showing the end which will contain the fan.

This picture was taken at the Burlington (England) works of a large British engineering firm, where the huge bridge which is to cross the Zambezi River in Africa is being constructed in sections, prior to transportation to the dark continent.
